HISTORY

Spirit Imports, Inc., is a family owned business founded by Alan Shayne in 1993. Our family has been in the alcoholic beverage business for almost 100 years. Uncle William Whiteley, was a prominent blender of Scotch whiskies. He owned the Edradour distillery and created the most sought after blended Scotch whisky brands of that time which included the Kings Ransom and House of Lords brands. Benjamin Shayne, Alan's father, in 1933 co-founded New York's first exclusive alcoholic beverage advertising and merchandising company.

In 1972, Alan successfully launched New York's first wine themed restaurant and night club. After taking the reins of his father's merchandising company in 1977, Alan would seven years later sell that company and be appointed Vice-President of Marketing for Bell's Scotch Whisky at Wellington Imports. Alan as well, co-founded Codorniu USA and later Blair Importers, Ltd., which he sold in 1993. Later that year he founded Spirit Imports, Inc., and The Scotch Malt Whisky Society of America ,Ltd. His daughters Lauren Shayne Mayer and Gabrielle Shayne joined the family business upon graduation from University and most successfully brought internet marketing to the Society business which the family sold in 2017.

Spirit Imports, Inc., continues in it s quest to source and market, alcoholic beverages of the highest quality, throughout the world.

The CLASSICCASK[®]

SINGLE MALT SCOTCH WHISKY

Premium whiskies bearing The Classic Cask label are amongst the most rare and unique spirits ever to be offered to the discerning enthusiast. Their unparalleled quality, richness, intensity of flavor, and remarkable smoothness are testament to the slow and painstaking processes, which were employed in their production. The Classic Cask single cask production is just that: never more than 700 bottles to a barrel. Each bottle is numbered, its label indicating the total production output, as well as distillation and bottling dates.

THE JOHN MILROY

SELECTION

NATURAL STRENGTH | 6/750ML
NON-CHILL FILTERED

“The spirits that we bottle under the “The John Milroy Selection” label, are - I think - rather special. There is no mass production, no standardisation, purely a ‘moment’. I don’t look for famous names, but for balance and complexity, maturity and texture - for excellence. It doesn’t matter to me whether a cask differs from a distillery’s ‘house’ style; non-conforming casks can sometimes be the greatest. Equally, age is not king: maturity counts for much more. While there is beauty in a cask that, over time, has breathed its youthful vigour to the angels, embracing the oak to find harmony and great balance; the ldest may not be the most complx, the most perfectly poised.

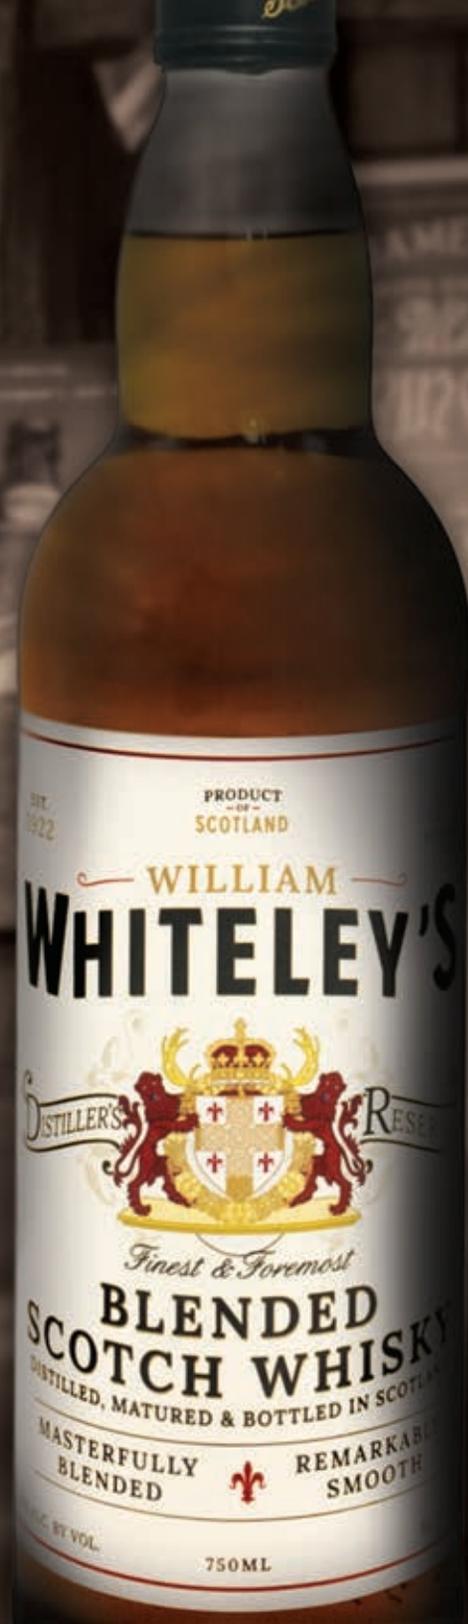

There are no rules to this range: but each spirit in this collection has a unique story. They are all natural in colour and whenever possible we avoid chill-filtering in order to preserve their authentic expression of a place, time or person. These whiskies are - we believe - esoteric and extraordinary spirits.”

"The distillation of Scotch whisky is a science, blending Scotch whisky is an art." William Whiteley, a prominent Leith whisky blender, inherited his grandfather's distillery and founded William Whiteley & Company in 1922. His brands were extremely popular during and after prohibition due to their high malt content and unprecedented quality.

We have recreated this family treasure, WHITELEY'S DISTILLER'S RESERVE, using his original recipe and blending process to produce this impeccably flavourful and remarkably smooth Scotch whisky. Sip and Savour in good health and moderation.

RUM

Handcrafted, Artisanal Rum Produced in the Dominican Republic

SOUTH BAY RUM

THE STORY

Handcrafted by award winning Cuban Rum Masters who immigrated to the Dominican Republic, South Bay Rum is blended to perfection. Full bodied, with a complex aroma, it's richly flavorful and has a velvety smooth finish, satisfying the most sophisticated palates.

South Bay Rum is produced in small batches, using matured rum from a wide range of hand selected barrels. Each barrel imparts its own characteristic to the finished product as they have formerly held bourbon, sherry, port, wine and single malt Scotch whisky.

Using the Solera method, the contents of the barrels are married for a significant period of time to obtain the rich flavors and remarkably smooth finish of South Bay Rum.

It's the precise combination of the climate, soil and ingredients, together with our Cuban Rum Master's experienced hands, which make South Bay Rum richly rewarding and one-of-a-kind.

Specialties of Central Italy

History, territory, tradition, technological innovation and internationalization. These are the Paolucci Liquori's key words. This factory, whose origins date back to early Nineteenth century, still represents a source of pride for the entire province. It has been awarded many prestigious acknowledgements, from the Gold Medal at the Global Exposition of Rome in 1922 to "Brevetto della Real Casa" in 1934 (an honour conferred in the past by the Italian king to products of very high quality). Following very ancient recipes, natural and attentively selected ingredients are used to produce Italian liqueurs and distillates, in particular those typical of Central Italy. Tradition and state-of-the-art technologies are fused in the production methods of this fourth generation company.
